LOS ANGELES

JOB TITLE: SENIOR PROJECT MANAGER
LOCATION: LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

NOW HIRING

JOB PACK // JUNE 2023

WHO WE ARE

Colour Sound Experiment has spent the last 34 years at the forefront of creative immersive lighting displays, supplying equipment and crew to event productions.

Over the years we have heavily expanded and invested in new technologies and new territories, but are proud in that time to have also maintained our independence.

It allows us to be agile and retain the original ethos that has kept decades long relationships with clients and our teams strong and connected.

With warehouses now across three continents, the US is our new frontier, where we hope to better serve the many global touring clients we are already lucky to work with.

USA GRAND OPENING

Our new Warehouse and Offices are based in San Fernando Valley, California.

We've already hit the ground running with tours on the road and some equipment already there and we're now ready for the operation to move into full gear.

We're looking to build the right team of experienced professionals with regional knowledge and a passion for what they do.

JOB ROLE: SENIOR PROJECT MANAGER

Roles and Responsibilities

- Manage client relationships, working with them to plan, develop and execute projects, assuming overall responsibility for completion on time and within budget;
- Critically evaluate technical and creative ideas by considering data, precedents, and input from others, as well as own personal experience and knowledge;
- Enter and maintain orders into Rental Management Software (Current RMS) and communicate equipment requirements to Colour Sound Experiment Operations;
- Develop relationships with technical staff including Lighting Designers, Lighting Technicians, Video Technicians and Rigging Technicians, and work with Crew Booking Manager to ensure every gig is appropriately staffed;
- Keep up to date with Colour Sound Experiment Ltd equipment stock, ensuring can operate and explain all hire stock to clients and staff ;
- Monitor and co-ordinate logistics to ensure equipment and staff are on site when required;
- Work collaboratively with suppliers to find cost effective solutions for purchases and hires;
- Research and identify new product offerings and services that will enhance the Colour Sound Experiment brand and align with our standards and services to customers;
- Manage Health and Safety issues at Colour Sound Experiment Ltd Offices and onsite where appropriate.

PERSONAL QUALITIES, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

We're looking for someone who matches our values of industry passion, humour and creativity. Spending money on what really matters to the client and the show, and saving it where it doesn't add value.

Someone who understands our kit, our crew and understands our clients, and how to get the best out of and for all of them.

We're looking for local knowledge and connections that will help us continue the reputation we have been so proud to build in the UK, Europe and Middle East.

Demonstrable experience and technical knowledge within our industry essential.

WYSIWYG or other CAD Design software proficiency highly desirable, as is a knowledge of Current RMS and excellent local restaurants.
(Some of this can of course be taught)

RENUMERATION AND BENEFITS PACKAGE

Salary is dependent on experience but this is a conversation we are very open to.

Full health care will of course be provided and relocation packages will be available to the right candidates where required.
